Ben England BEM is an award-winning conductor and educator, whose innovative work with online choirs is setting new directions for choral music globally. He started both Choir of the Earth and Homechoir during the COVID-19 pandemic and has since led choirs of tens of thousands in performances of the great classical works, as well as developing techniques to bring music and a sense of community to those in isolation both locally and globally. He is in demand around the world to lead choirs and orchestras, and has worked with some of the industry's finest musicians and ensembles, recently as a chorus master for the Bergen Philharmonic Orchestra under Sir Mark Elder, and alongside great composers such as John Rutter CBE, and Patrick Hawes.
